Please help me welcome UncleBrandon.

As an author, speaker, and creative wealth expert, UncleBrandon's work sits at the intersection of music, healing, and entrepreneurship.

While still a student himself, UncleBrandon founded AskUncleBrandon, a platform dedicated to helping students, artists, and creatives turn their gifts into structured businesses that guarantee long-term wealth.

But what makes his work different is that he does not just talk about business from the outside. UncleBrandon walks the path himself while helping others understand the emotional work required to build from the inside.

With a Master of Social Work degree and years of professional work in the field, UncleBrandon understands that many people are trying to figure out more than a career. They are working to figure out who they are, what they have survived, and how to build a future without breaking under the weight of their past.

As a musician and songwriter, UncleBrandon also understands the creative side firsthand. He knows what it feels like to have ideas, emotions, songs, dreams, and vision inside of you, but not always know how to organize them, communicate them, or turn them into something sustainable.

Through his books, workshops, and signature Music That Heals approach, UncleBrandon teaches that music is more than entertainment. It is a language for pain, a mirror for identity, a tool for healing, and a pathway to purpose.

He believes if you heal your spirit, you heal your emotions, and that's what heals your pockets.

On a personal note, UncleBrandon loves movies, actively hates grape-flavored everything, and is unashamed about his faith in God.

Please join me in welcoming UncleBrandon.
